Miss Swats is a reigning belle in a Tennessee town, who ought to be able to catch some fly young man.

A full size woman was shipped from Nashville to Lebanon by parcel post for 9 cents. She was billed as Papier Mache.

Shelbyville has inaugurated a "Go-to-Church" movement to run for four Sundays, the idea being to March them to church.

The Senate defeated a bill intended to take from the Postmaster General the authority to lower rates and alter regulations of the parcels post.

A new riot broke out in Nogales, Sonora, over the line in Mexico from Nogales, Arizona, last week, in which the native washerwomen attacked the Chinese laundrymen and chased them into the hills.

China is not so far behind as you think. The government troops used aeroplanes to locate White Wolf's brigands and then attacked and dispersed them. The killed in two battles numbered 4,000.

Mr. Greene has re-iterated the charge that Mr. Price was made to take back on pain of expulsion, that many of the members of the Legislature have really forfeited their offices by riding on railroad passes.

By the vote of 69 to 1, Representative Miller, of Paducah, voting "no," the House passed the bill of Representative S. H. Rogers, of Marion county, leaving it optional with the Fiscal Court of a county as to whether that county shall have a road engineer.

Gen. Carranza has assumed personal charge in the discussion of the murder of Wm. S. Benton, a British subject by his subordinate, the mulatto, Gen. Villa. Carranza has notified Secretary Bryan that he will discuss British matters only with the British government.

The "Nuisance act" passed in Tennessee became operative yesterday and the state is at last to be dry, except for outside shipments, which are again in order under a late decision. At Memphis 576 saloons have closed and saloons will be opened in Arkansas, across the river, and a line of ferry boats maintained.

Owen Dean, who as a boy of 15 disappeared from his home in Mercer county 14 years ago, and has been mourned as dead all these years, has suddenly returned with the explanation that he has been seeing the world and has come back to settle down. He brought two calves with him, or rather they brought him back.

Pittsburg is to have four women policemen, and the rules requiring them to be unmarried. This ruling is doubtless for the purpose of keeping the husbands of the officers from being sweet with the cops on their beats, but the fact that is lost sight of is that there is usually more love making before than after the marriage.

Gen. Hugh L. Scott, who is in command on the Mexican border, bears a historic name. The last Gen. Scott who had to do business with Mexico, with 12,000 soldiers cut his way through 30,000 of Santa Ana's men, holding the country as he went, and captured the capitol with 6,000 men. History may have to repeat itself.

Mrs. Kate Edwards, who had been in the shadow of the gallows for nearly thirteen years for the killing of her husband, was released from the Reading, Pa., jail Friday under a pardon granted by Gov. Tener and secretly taken from the city to begin life over again. She was convicted of first degree murder in 1901 and sentenced to be hanged; but four governors declined to fix a day for her execution. She is nearly sixty years old. A negro implicated with her was also convicted. The woman later confessed that the negro was innocent and he was granted a new trial and acquitted. Mrs. Edwards has five children living. She was accused of intimate relations with the negro.

STONE BILL
SPECIAL ORDER

Seeks To Reduce Railroad Fare From Three to Two and One-Half Cents a Mile.

MORE BILLS IN THE HOPPER.

Only 13 Days More Left For The Legislature To Do Business.

Frankfort, Ky., March 2.—Due to a misunderstanding, the hour set for taking up the bill of Representative Stone, of Crittenden, providing for a minimum railroad fare of two and one-half cents per mile, as a special order of business, was continued without action upon the measure. As a result, it was set as a special order of business for Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. At 12:30 o'clock the House adjourned until Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

Bills were introduced in the House Saturday as follows:

H. B. No. 598, Barrett—To regulate auctioneers—Judiciary.

H. B. No. 599, Spahn—To regulate employment of convicts pending vote of people on constitutional amendment looking to working convicts on public roads—Public Roads and Highways.

H. B. No. 600, Miller—To amend law relating to deaths resulting from negligence—Judiciary.

H. B. No. 601, Coke—To amend law relating to salary of Insurance Commissioner, deputy and clerks—Insurance, Fire and Marine.

H. B. 602, J. C. Duffy—To provide for State ownership and control of Kentucky Children's Home Society—Juvenile Courts and Children's Home.

H. B. 603, W. M. Webb—To repeal charter of town of Flat Gap, in Johnson county—Cities of Fifth and Sixth Classes.

H. B. 604, Duncan—To amend law relating to separate coaches—Railroads.

H. B. 605, McCormack—Providing for Constitutional amendment, whereby sessions of General Assembly shall be divided into two terms of not exceeding thirty days each, not less than thirty days to intervene between the two terms, members not to be entitled to per diem during vacation. The measure provides that during the first term no act shall be passed without the approval of three-fourths of the members elected and that no measure shall be introduced during the second term without the consent of two-thirds of the members—Constitutional Amendments.

JUDGE NUNN
RESIGNS SEAT

First Appellate District Jurist Quits Bench On Account of Ill Health.

Frankfort, Ky., Mar. 2.—Judge T. J. Nunn, of the Court of Appeals, has resigned on account of ill health and his son, C. S. Nunn, of Marion, Ky., was appointed to succeed him from the First district. Judge Nunn has been suffering from a form of aphasia for a couple of years and decided that only a long rest will accomplish a cure.

He has been on the Appellate bench eleven years, and has five years yet remaining of his present term. An election to fill out the remainder of the term will be held next year.

Marrying Minister.

Rev. J. McPool, a Methodist preacher at Murray, has married 1,300 couples. He is 73 years old.

Winter's Worst Storm.

New York City was almost completely cut off from telephone and telegraph communications by a northeast storm, accompanied by rain and snow. All telegraph wires to Chicago are down, as are most of the lines to Philadelphia. Trains are stalled by fallen telegraph poles. The country is experiencing the worst weather of the winter.

HOPKINSVILLE
ORATOR WINS

Edward D. Moseley Declared Victor in Oratorical Contest.

Dawson Springs, Ky., March 2.—Amid the wildest enthusiasm, Edward D. Moseley, representing the Hopkinsville High school, was declared the winner of the Western Kentucky Oratorical contest held at the auditorium Friday night. His subject was "The Music of the Ages."

Young Moseley delivered his oration like a finished platform orator and the three judges were unanimous in their verdict.

The auditorium was gayly decorated with flags and colors of the various schools. The entire town turned out and more than 300 visitors were present.

The following were the representatives of the schools and their subjects:

Princeton High School—Clyde Howard, "The Invisible Hand."

Dawson Springs—Roy Mason, "Whither are We Drifting?"

Paducah—Clyde Mullins, "Is There Danger of a Yellow Peril?"

Henderson—Emanuel Gebauer, "The Living Present."

Owensboro—Morton Atchison, "The Miracles of Industry."

Hopkinsville—Edward D. Moseley, "The Music of the Ages."

Madisonville—Craig Riddle, "The Rights of the American Boy."

SETTLEMENT MADE

With Former Sheriff By John W. Richards, Reported to Fiscal Court.

Last Saturday, in compliance with the statutes, which requires that the Sheriff shall settle with the Fiscal Court by the first day of March, the fiscal court met in the county court room.

Besides Judge Knight and County Attorney Ira D. Smith, the following magistrates were present: J. M. Morris, W. W. Garrett, T. H. Moore, E. W. Woodburn, L. D. Rogers and Sylvester Reese.

The books and all necessary papers handled by John W. Richards, who had been appointed by the court to make the settlement with ex-Sheriff Low Johnson, were laid before the court. The accounts were all carefully audited by Mr. Richards and found correct. His report will be filed in the County Clerk's office and will be put to record.

At the meeting Saturday a committee, composed of Magistrates Morris, Woodburn and Garrett was appointed to go over papers, etc., and make a list of persons who are to be put on the delinquent tax list and a list of those exempt from taxation. The report was ordered to be submitted as soon as practicable.

The Fiscal Court meets today in regular monthly session and it is thought that much business outside the regular routine will be before the body.

Dr. Jenkins Taking Rest Cure.

Rev. M. A. Jenkins, former pastor of the First Baptist church here, is now at Edgecrest, N. C., a small resort not far from Asheville, broken in health and taking a rest of two years under advice of his physician. He is preaching as substitute for a small church in Asheville.

TWO CHARGES
OF MURDER

The Grand Jury Brings In a Batch of Indictments.

MR. BARBEE NOT INDICTED.

Most of Those Indicted Are Negroes Now in The County Jail.

The grand jury reported several indictments last week as follows:

Henry Forrest and Ora Lee Trice, col., wilful murder. They are charged with killing Howard Burnett, col., July 4, 1913. The woman lived with Burnett and he was shot and killed as they were in a room together, the assassin firing through a window.

Ben Dillard, col., wilful murder, accused of killing George Martin, col.

Calvin Neely, col., was indicted for breaking into a railroad car and stealing goods. The police found much stolen property in his possession.

Tommie Dawson, a young negro, was indicted on a charge of assaulting Glendora Gary, col., a child under 12 years of age.

Sarah McKnight, col., cutting with intent to kill. She is the woman who slashed Wm. Schutz, a white man, with a knife at Seventh and Virginia streets, last winter.

Joe Rice who cut Sam Smith and Maxey Woosley who cut Otis Massie are both indicted for cutting with intent to kill.

Will Woodridge for grand larceny, being charged with stealing W. A. Radford's watch.

Albert Huff, col., grand larceny. He is charged with stealing clothing from Mrs. Henry McCartney.

Will Sivells, grand larceny, charged with stealing a steer from S. F. Holway.

Lawrence Bryant, shooting at another without wounding.

Rosa Bell Moore, shooting with intent to kill.

Nathaniel Wootton, c. c. d. w.

The grand jury reported that the charge against W. W. Barbree, for killing Ben Moss, col., last December, had been investigated and no indictment found, the jury believing it to be a clear case of self defense.

Saturday's Docket.

After motion hour the first case on the docket was the Commonwealth against Mack Stearnman indicted for hog stealing. The examination of witnesses occupied the entire morning, the attorneys closing their arguments about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The case was given to the jury.

The case of the Commonwealth against William Tyler, colored, indicted for burying the body of a deceased person without permit, was discontinued.

The case against Alfred Boyd, Sherman Boyd and Mack Martin, indicted for breach of the peace, was discontinued.

The case against the Kentucky Public Service Co., indicted for putting obstructions into streams whereby fish were destroyed, left open.

The case against James Hill, indicted for a breach of the peace, after examination of witnesses, was given to the jury without argument. In a few minutes the jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

Commonwealth against Ezell Nixon, appeal from County Court, fined $25.

Same against same, appeal, discontinued.

Commonwealth against Henry Underwood, (penal action), continued.

Court adjourned to Tuesday morning.

High Handed Refusal.

The departure for Chihuahua City of the commission to examine the body of William S. Benton, the British subject executed by Gen. Villa at Juarez, was postponed pending the outcome of negotiations with Gen. Carranza. At El Paso, Tex., it is said the rebel commander at Juarez refused to allow the commission to board the train.

LIBELOUS LETTER
ATTACKS BIBLE

Circulated Through The Mails In The Owls Sensation.

A new chapter was added to the sensation in the Owls when a letter said to be intensely libelous and scurrilous appeared in the mails Sunday, attacking Hon. John F. Bible, who withdrew from the local lodge a week ago giving his reasons, published in the Kentuckian. It was signed by Geo. D. Peirot, of South Bend, on stationery of John W. Talbot, head of the Supreme Nest. The letter stated that a Supreme Nest officer would visit the local nest. The lodge here is much divided, as Mr. Bible is one of the most influential and prominent men who was identified with the new order.

ARCHIE McGEHEE

Native of this County Dies In California.

Archie McGehee, son of the late Albert C. McGehee, died in San Diego, Cal., Feb. 25, of tuberculosis of the bowels, aged 24 years. He was born in this county but was reared in Clarksville and his body is expected to arrive there for interment today, accompanied by his brother-in-law, Will Bratton. He is survived by a young wife and one child, a sister, Mrs. Bratton, and his mother, who was Miss Sallie Lander, of Gracey, who now lives in California.

Mr. Jesse T. Edwards, who is soon to open a store on Main Street, was operated on yesterday at the Infirmary for appendicitis. He stood the operation well and his speedy convalescence is believed to be assured.

ELKS ELECT
NEW OFFICERS

The annual election of officers of Hopkinsville Lodge No. 545 B. P. O. E. will be held to-night at 7:30 o'clock and it is hoped that every member will be present. Other important business will be on hand.

Sudden End For C. W. Little.

C. W. Little died yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock of apoplexy. Death came very suddenly. He lived only an hour and a half after being stricken. He lived with his wife and little daughter over the Star Grocery on Seventh street. He was 65 years old and a Presbyterian.

Child Badly Burned.

Robert, the 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lyle, of Church Hill, was badly burned about the face and hands while playing around the fire Saturday. While the burns are quite painful they are not considered serious.

GOOD ROADS
MAIN TOPIC

At Meeting of Hopkinsville Business Men's Association Friday Night.

AWARDS FOR BEST ROADS.

Committee Named To Look Into Several Progressive Propositions.

Good Roads was the chief topic of discussion at the meeting of the H. B. M. A. Friday night, talks being made by Geo. E. Gary, J. M. Neblett, Frank Rives, C. H. Bleich, A. H. Eckles, J. B. Gerard and others.

It was decided to offer three prizes of $50, $35 and $15 for the best sections of main highways worked with split-log drags for the year beginning May 1, 1914. The following committee was named to arrange the details: A. H. Eckles, T. J. McReynolds, M. C. Forbes, F. K. Yost, J. M. Neblett and T. C. Underwood.

A report was received on interurban prospects and a letter was read from Capt. W. A. Calhoun, of Paducah, asking for information. A. H. Eckles, Roy A. Field and C. H. Bleich were appointed to supply him with the desired information.

The Shackelford Good Roads bill was highly praised and Christian County will be strongly urged to apply for its benefits. The Secretary was directed to get copies of the bill for the use of the Association in studying the new law. Complaints were made of unlicensed peddlers and the Secretary was directed to call the attention of the Chief of Police to them.

A motion was adopted calling upon the Mayor to look into the right of the Paradis Construction Co. to build a frame house in the fire limits and in the street and if contrary to law to have it removed.

DEEP GASH

Opened by Dan McKnight in Emory Arbuckle's Side.

Two negro men had a fight in a lot on Eighth Street yesterday afternoon and Dan McKnight used a knife, cutting a deep gash in Emory Arbuckle's side, but not penetrating to the cavity. Dr. Perkins sewed up the wound, which is not dangerous.

FRANCHISE
SALE TO-DAY.

To-day is the day set for the sale of the telephone franchise ordered sold by the County Court. The officials of The Christian-Todd Telephone Co., which owns all of the lines in the county, have not intimated whether or not the company will bid on the franchise, which contains features not agreed upon.

Rev. Geo. W. McPherson.

Rev. Geo. W. McPherson, of New York, preached at the First Baptist church Sunday morning and evening to large congregations and was listened to with much interest. Dr. McPherson is quite popular here. Last night he delivered an illustrated lecture at the church on his experiences in mission work in New York and elsewhere.

Hearts That Were Longing For Dream That Never Came True.

By DOROTHY DIX.

(Copyright, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)
After all, most house parties are a mistake. One sees people at too close range, and learns the secrets of their complexions and the hidden things of their lives. Only the very young care to look at the stage
through opera glasses. Older people are glad to cherish their illusions, and to know their friends without knowing their stories.Nevertheless, I accepted her invitation when Sally Grand asked me to be one of a party she was entertaining
at her country place. There were several pretty girls staying with her, a half dozen unattached men, and Tom Moreton, and his wife."Good heavens!" I said to Sally the first night of my visit, as she came to my room in kimono and slippers
for a bedtime chat. "What made you ask her?""Because," she replied, with withering scorn, "I couldn't ask him without asking her. I should think even you,
who pride yourself on scorning conventionalities, must see that.""Oh, I suppose so," I replied disconsolately."I am glad you see it," returned Sally. "But after all," she added hopefully, "she isn't so bad as we expected.""I never had your power of imagination," I answered. "In my wildest fancies I never anticipated anything
worse than the reality.""Don't you think you are a little unjust?" began Sally. "I am sure she is very good, and as for her being homely—""It isn't the ugliness," I interrupted. "I never object to lack of beauty
in another woman. Somehow its a kind of ready-made excuse for her that gets on your nerves. You feel that she got her religion and her politics and her opinions and her tastes from the most reputable shop, and that she took what was recommended to her as being the proper thing without exercising a particle of individual taste. I don't suppose," I added viciously,
"that she ever ate an indigestible
thing or had an original sin impulse
in her life.""She's always so calm and collected," said Sally."That's just it," I exclaimed. "You couldn't get up an argument with her to save your life. Poor Tom! Just fancy the misery of being married to a person you couldn't quarrel with—
who would always be self-controlled and dignified, and in the right.""It was a queer choice for a man of Tom's temperament," commented Sally, "but it was a fine match for him."
"You mean she had lots of money?"
I answered brutally."Do you think Tom mar—do you think that had anything to do with his choice of her?" asked Sally."No, I don't," I replied hotly, because in my heart I believed it had.
You see I have known Tom ever since he was a slip of a lad, and I loved him
with the queer maternal feeling God
sometimes puts into an old maid's
heart, and because he had disappointed
me, because I feared that he had sold what was best and noblest in him for money, I hated the woman who had tempted him to marry her for her millions and who did not even know how to understand the soul—as finely tuned as a violin—that dwelt in silence by her side."He is such a brilliant fellow," went on Sally calmly, "so full of talent and ability that although—er—er—his wife isn't—er—just one of us, I was glad to hear that he had married her.
She is so enormously rich, and can help him so at the beginning of his career, and he only needed a chance to get his foot on the first rung of the ladder. I hear he is doing wonderfully, and is quite sure of the nomination for the senate now.""He may be wildly in love with her," I said, "for all I know. De gustibus—you know. I am told there are people who actually like breakfast
foods.""Ah!" returned Sally, hopefully,
"she'll do him good. She'll discipline
him. He's always been so impulsive,
and erratic, you know.""But I don't want him disciplined," I answered crossly, "that was the charm of him—the wild, sweet ways,
and the uncertainty of what he would do next."And with that I put Sally out and locked the door, and lay long into the night thinking of the man I pictured eating his heart out in lonely silence
by the side of his uncomprehending wife."He asked her for bread," I said to myself as I fell asleep, "and she gives him gold. I wonder if it satisfies the hunger of his soul?"It was perhaps a week after this
that we were sitting in the gloaming.
A big fire glowed upon the wide hearth in the hall, and there was a pungent odor of absinthe and other
aperitifs upon the anti-prandial air.
Tom was at the piano singing, sometimes a quaint, sad ballad, that he filled
with unutterable tears, that sobbed
through the room like the wail of a broken heart. When he had finished there was silence, and then one of the men said huskily out of the dusk:"By George, Moreton, you should have gone in for the stage, instead of the hustings. Your voice can draw tacks out of the carpet when you get down in the tremulo chords.""I disapprove of the stage," said Tom's wife, in her thin, high, cool
voice, "and I particularly disapprove
of all such songs and the way Tom sings them. They seem—er—not—er—proper.""You are always right," said Tom
with covert sarcasm, "feeling is always banal, and love is a myth, so why should one sing songs about it, or eat one's heart out with longing for a dream that can never come true?"
It was just at this moment that Sally came into the room waving a yellow telegraph envelope."After all!" she cried, "she's coming! Isn't it too delightful?"
"I don't know," I replied, "seeing that we haven't the faintest idea who
she is.""Marion Allerly," she replied.
"What!" cried one of the men. "The paragon among widows. The one who combines all charms and virtues—
beauty, enormous wealth, talent, everything, except a heart, for she scorns
all men and is so faithful to the memory of the dear departed she declines to lend an ear to the suitors that clamor at her door.""I have met her," said one of the men, slowly, "and for once report does not exaggerate. She is the handsomest woman, and the most fascinating
one I ever saw, but what sets her apart from other women is a kind of spiritual look. I can't describe it exactly, but she looks as if she had been through some great sorrow—something that had seared her very soul,
and that she had been purified by it.
Only, of course, such an idea is absurd
in connection with one like her, who has always been a darling of fortune.""There was some story," began Sally.
Tom's hands fell with a crash on the keys of the piano. "Don't tell it," he cried fiercely. "All the good stories
have been told, and the others are not worth telling.""It isn't much, and really I never knew the truth of it, for she never spoke of it to me, and it may all have been a canard. The world is always gossiping about beautiful women," replied Sally, who having gotten started
was not to be stopped. "But Marian was married when a mere child by her father—a tyrannical old gentleman
with a stern sense of a parent's rights
over his children, to a man who might almost have been her grandfather, and who by all accounts did the one decent act of his life when he died and left her everything in his will. For many years the poor child struggled along, trying to do her duty, living a colorless life, but not unhappy until
the other man dawned on the scene.
He is said to have been a handsome
young fellow, brilliant and sympathetic, one who could give to Marian everything she craved in companionship. Neither one of them dreamed of any danger until it was too late. Then,
because the man was a gentleman and would not harm the woman he loved
he went away and Marian went back to the dull monotony of waiting hand
and foot on her tyrant. That's the story, as I have heard it.""And a pretty enough story, too," commented one of the men, "full of the quiet tragedy that wrecks happiness and blights lives.""Shockingly improper," said Tom's wife."Now she is free, perhaps they will marry," said someone.
"No," said Sally. "It seems it was a double tragedy for the man was bound, too. Do you know," she added
meditatively, "it's none of my affair,
but I would give worlds to know who
the man is.""Tom," I cried sharply, "I left my shawl in the hammock. Fetch it to me," and as he stumbled blindly out into the dark he accidentally jostled
his wife's chair."You are so awkward," she cried sharply.
"Yes," he said dully, "I am always making a mess of things."

Marriage Before Three.

An afternoon wedding in England
can not take place later than 3 o'clock.
Such is the ordinance made and provided, and no one need question the why or wherefore. A few days ago a couple appeared with their friends at the parish church at twenty minutes
of 3 o'clock p. m. at Great Bealings, in Suffolk. But the parson was not on hand. Minutes after minute ticked away, and the fateful 3 o'clock was nearer and nearer every tick. The parish clerk rose to the occasion.
"Send the bridal carriage to Little Bealings," (a mile away), he said, and
in seven minutes it was at the rectory
there. The coachman told the rector of the couple's plight, and in a few moments it was bowling back to Great Bealings."It is 3 o'clock, sir," lamented the bridegroom."Then I can not marry you," said
the rector."Yes, you can, sir," interposed the parish clerk. "It wants four minutes to 3. I put my watch right by station time this morning.""I can do it in four minutes," said
the rector—and it was done!

Marked for Honors.

"What makes you so anxious to send Three-finger Sam to the legislature. He isn't so very popular.""No. We citizens of Crimson Gulch figured that it would be a great saving to the general community to get a poker player like Sam located somewhere else."

Mildly Sarcastic.

"Are you sure these eggs are strictly fresh?""Yes; but I can have the hens call at your house and lay eggs under your own supervision, if you wish."

Dread Of An Operation.

N. Manchester, Ind.—Mrs. Eva Bashore, of this place, says: "I suffered female misery of every description. Two doctors attended me, and advised an operation. I lost weight until I weighed only ninety pounds. I dreaded an operation, and instead, began to take Cardui. In a short time I had gained 25 pounds, and feel as well as I ever did. Cardui, I am sure, saved my life." Cardui is today used in thousands of homes, where it relieves pain and brings back strength and ambition. It is a woman's medicine, for woman's ailments, and you are urged to try it for your troubles. Ask your druggist. He will tell you about Cardui. Advertisement.

And Many Are The Voices of Hopkinsville People.

Thirty thousand voices—What a grand chorus! And that's the number of American men and women who are publicly praising Doan's Kidney Pills for relief from backache, kidney and bladder ills. They say it to friends. They tell it in the home papers. Hopkinsville people are in this chorus. Here's a Hopkinsville case.

Mrs. I. P. Duke, 655 O'Neal St., Hopkinsville, Ky., says:

"I had pains across my back and sides, well as other troubles, caused by weak kidneys. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills so highly recommended, I got a box and used them as directed. They promptly cured me and since then, I have had no further need of a kidney medicine. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, as they are just as advertised."

WHEN PA IS SICK.

When pa is sick,
He's scared to death,
An' ma an' us
Just holds our breath.
He crawls in bed,
And puffs and grunts,
And does all kinds
Of crazy stunts.
He wants "Doc" Brown,
An' mighty quick;
For when pa's ill,
He's awful sick,
He gasps and grawns,
An' sort o' sighs,
He talks so queer.
An' rolls his eyes.
Ma jumps an' runs,
An' all of us,
An' all the house
Is in a fuss.
An' peace and joy
Is mighty scarce—
When pa is sick,
It's something fierce.

WHEN MA IS SICK

When ma is sick,
She pegs away;
She is quiet though,
Not much 't say.
She goes right on
A-doing things,
An' sometimes laughs,
Or even sings.
She says she don't Feel extra well,
But then it's just
A kind o' spell.
She'll be all right
Tomorrow, sure.
A good old sleep
Will be the cure,
An' pa he sniffs
An' makes no kick,
For women folks
Is always sick.
An' ma she smiles,
Let's on she's glad—
When ma is sick,
It ain't so bad.

Worth While in Reading.

Some one has suggested that a certain time set apart each Sunday shall be devoted to reading with a purpose. Not just a book picked up at random, and another on quite a different topic when that is finished. At the end of winter little definite mental advance is made from such a method. This winter take books relating, say, to one country, or to a painter and his pictures, or to any definite subject that attracts you, and read on that subject for even one or two hours each Sunday. In three months there will be definite mental results.

IMPERIAL PLEAS FOR NEW TRIAL MARCH 2.

Tobacco Company's Arguments To Be Heard By Judge Hanbery.

Henderson, Ky., Feb. 26.—Jury business in the circuit court here today was finished for the present January term when Judge Henson discharged the petit jury panel. The January term will adjourn Saturday, and the remainder of the week will be devoted to the hearing of equity cases.

On Monday Judge Henson goes to Morganfield, Ky., where he will open the March term for Union county. On the first day, March 2, Judge Hanbery will hear the arguments for a new trial in the Imperial Tobacco company's trust case. The company was convicted at the November term.

EIGHT INTERMENTS

In Riverside Cemetery During Month of February.

There were eight burials in Cemetery during the month of February and eight during January. During February there were six deaths in the city, as follows:

John W. Harris, Mrs. Parmelia Shadin, George V. Lacey, George F. Greer, infant, Mrs. Pauline G. Lander, F. A. C. Myrick, Thomas G. Hubbard, Memphis, C. Oscar Flemming, Memphis.

Dressed Cat Was

Sold As A Rabbit.

Princeton, Ky.—In a complaint to County Judge M. P. Smith against a vendor of rabbits, Martha Greeley, an aged negroess of this place, alleges that she was sold a dressed cat, which was represented as a rabbit. "Aunt" Martha cooked the supposed rabbit and attempted to devour it, but alleges she was made violently ill and a physician was summoned to attend her.

Death of Child.

Louis, the 14-months-old son, of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. West, 1105 Walnut street, died Friday morning at 11 o'clock, of meningitis, after an illness of about two weeks. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home. Mr. and Mrs. West have the deepest sympathy of their friends in their bereavement. The pretty little baby was the pet of the home and the idol of his father.

Convict Shot.

Will Dean, colored, of Winchester, was shot to death on a Chesapeake & Ohio train this morning, between Lexington and Shelbyville, by Policeman Billard, also of Winchester.

Dean in some manner got hold of a pistol from a friend on the train and armed with the weapon, made a break for liberty, while on his way to the Eddyville penitentiary.

Good Job for Jett.

G. A. Jett will be endorsed by Congressman Stanley for postmaster at Owensboro.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by Dr. J. C. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

RAISING BEEF CATTLE

Decrease of Supply East of Missouri Is Vital Problem.

Farmers of Corn Belt Have Been Prone to Look to West and Southwest for Feeders—Situation Is Growing More Acute.

(By R. G. WEATHERSTONE.)

We quite agree with the statement by a Chicago man who has kept in close touch with the cattle owners of the country for the past 20 years that decreasing beef cattle supplies on the farms east of the Missouri river is the most vital problem facing the live stock industry today, and one which must be remedied by greater effort toward replenishment if the prosperity of the land owners is to be

Excellent Beef Type.

continued and, too, if the beef-eating public is to secure its regular quota at prices below prohibitive levels.

The nation has in recent years drawn too heavily upon the source of fat beef output, without due regard to the future of the supply. Farmers of the corn belt have been prone to look to the west and southwest for their supplies of feeding cattle, not realizing that the increasing population is constantly calling for greater home production of fat beef.

Time has arrived when the west, a few years back the breeding ground for the corn belt feeders, is no longer able to supply feeding cattle to the farmers of Missouri, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio except at almost fat steer prices. The situation is growing more acute each year. Within the past two years the effect of home production of beef steers in the states of the middle west has been a relatively shorter supply of beef than consumption capacity required, and the results have been higher average prices for fat steers than realized in thirty years past. But instead of general prosperity it has been prosperity for the few, because cattle raising and feeding has declined.

IMPORTANCE OF CLEAN SEED

Corn Crop of Country Has Been Increased Millions of Bushels by Good Seed Selection.

No farmer can get any one to take the same pains in grading his seed that he would himself. Some farmers claim that it does not pay to clean grain.

The corn crop of this country has been increased millions of bushels by intelligent seed selection. All other grain crops can be improved by grading the seed, so that only good, plump, healthy grains, free from all foul weed seeds may be sown.

The fanning mill, judiciously used will do much to increase the yield of every small grain crop and assist in keeping our fields free from noxious weeds.

It will take cockle out of wheat, buckthorn, plantain out of clover, in fact, it can be adjusted so as to handle all kinds of grain and weed seeds. If you decide that it pays to sow good seed and to keep your fields free from noxious weeds, then do not hesitate to invest a few dollars in a fanning mill.

Preparation of Orchard.

As the orchard is to occupy the land for several years, the work of thoroughly preparing the soil before planting is important.

Whether the planting is to be done early or late in the season, there is no time during the whole year so opportune for effective work with the plow, subsoil plow and harrow as just after the first good fall rain. At this time the subsoil is moist, not wet, and lasting benefits result from stirring and pulverizing the subsoil to a good depth when it is in just the right condition.

Profitable Blackberry.

The Early Harvest Blackberry was very profitable this year in many localities. It always did well for us, but that does not prove that it ever will for you. Along this line a friend of ours who is a large grower of all the small fruit, particularly raspberries, says: "Cumberland is an absolute failure with me." He knows his business but lives in Marion county, located in the Black swamp region of Ohio. Soil makes the difference.

Good Storage Conditions.

The conditions most favorable to good home storage of vegetables in winter are protection from frost, cool enough to prevent rapid decay, moist enough to prevent excessive evaporation, and dark enough to prevent decay.

TOMATOES AND MATRIMONY.

Christian County Girls Can Make Their Own Pin Money.

Young women whose fathers are farmers have splendid chances of making more "pin money" than they can spend by raising tomatoes, and now is the time for them to plant the seed in a box to have plants for early use. The girls of this county should follow the example of the champion tomato grower, Miss Bettie Davis, of Henderson county, who made a net profit of $118.90 on one-tenth of an acre of tomatoes. How is that for "pin money"—or for a fine set of furniture? Don't forget that there is a chance to rake in more dollars at the next Pennyroyal Fair. Miss Davis is in the 16th year of her age.

Weather For Week.

Washington, March 1.—A cold wave for the eastern part of the country extending as far south as the Gulf of Mexico for the first days of the week, with warmer temperatures by the middle of the week and generally fair weather, were forecast today by the weather bureau. The next storm of importance to cross the country will appear on the north Pacific coast Wednesday, cross the great central valleys about Friday and the eastern states near the end of the week. This disturbance will cause rains in southern and probably rains and snows in northern states east of the Rocky mountains.

DR. BEAZLEY Specialist (Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat.)

Easy Money.

Robt. Gardner, aged 24, and Amanda Parsley, aged 14, were married in Nashville Saturday and he told how it happened. "I met her a month ago," he said, "and talked love to her the second night after I went to board with her daddy. This morning when I started to work I said let's get married and she said 'Suits me.' When you once get 'em to loving you, it's easy money."

Hanbery at Morganfield.

Judge Henson convened circuit court at Morganfield yesterday Judge J. T. Hanbery, of Hopkinsville, heard the motion for a new trial in the Imperial Tobacco Company case. In the afternoon Judge Henson and Hon. D. H. Kincheloe spoke, opening their campaign for congress. Judge Hanbery had no docket here for Monday and will be back this morning.

One Stays Out.

The First National Bank, at Hartford, Ky., is preparing to become a state bank, changing its name to Citizens Bank. This is the only one in Kentucky to stay out of the federal reserve system.

HAD CATARRH FIVE YEARS.

Mr. Johnson of St. Elmo, Illinois, was troubled five years with catarrh. The catarrh was so severe in his case that his life seemed threatened. As he expresses it himself, he had "one foot in the grave."

MR. S. S. JOHNSON
St. Elmo, Illinois.

Of course he tried to get relief. Many practitioners were consulted and a catarrh specialist in St. Louis was tried. He got so weak and thoroughly run down that he declares he could not walk more than a hundred yards without resting.

Few people understand that catarrh is a constant drain on the system. The discharge of mucus which is going on in such cases is largely composed of blood serum, and is a great waste. Sooner or later it will weaken the strongest man.

According to reports received from Mr. Johnson, he was in a desperate condition, but he found relief from his trouble. We will let him say how he found it. His own words say:

"My friends told me to take Peruna, and I did so. I now feel that Peruna has saved my life. It is the best medicine on earth, and I would not be without it."

This seems almost too good to be true. No doubt there are some readers that will think so. The above statements, however, can be verified by writing Mr. Johnson.

Every home should be provided with the last edition of "The Ills of Life," sent free by the Peruna Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Florida Paper Gives

The Hon. H. A. Sommers, editor of the Elizabethtown (Ky.) News, is among the many distinguished visitors to the city. Mr. Sommers enjoys the enviable distinction of being one of the most accomplished journalists in the great State of Kentucky. The friends of Mr. Sommers are endeavoring to get him to make the race for Governor of his State and should he decide to run, there is no doubt about his success, because he is universally popular and is recognized as one of the great leaders of Progressive Democracy of his section.—Tampa Tribune.

Joke on the Cops.

Several automobiles loaded with suffragettes dashed into the street at Premier Asquith's residence and were beginning operations when a squad of police surrounded and arrested them and helped to make the picture all the more realistic. The women were chorus girls hired by a moving picture company.

A MUSEMENTS.

Full of pleasing melodies, and offering an amazingly lavish production, "The Prince of Tonight," enhanced by the prestige afforded by the presence in the title role of Tom Arnold, should live up to its record as a phenomenal magnet for the playgoer when it appears here at Holland's Opera House next Friday night, March 6.

College Hit, "Her Eyes Are Blue For Yale," "The Prince of Tonight," Holland's Opera House, Friday Night, March 6th.

The large cast of principals in support of Mr. Arnold, evidences the choice of the best to be had in the musical comedy field, and the chorus is a typical beauty gathering of girls, who can sing and dance, and make the audience wonder if the producer cornered all the pretty girls in the country. As the Prince of the mythical land of Lullaland, wherein he succeeds in winning the girl of his heart, Mr. Arnold presents a portrayal with all the mischievous wit, apt witticisms and bubbling good nature that won him so strong a regard in the hearts of theatre goers.—Advertisement.

Latest Version.

It is said Benton went to Villa's office and entered without invitation, and was recognized immediately as an old enemy, and that Villa slipped behind a door. Benton didn't make any belligerent move, but began to complain against the treatment, and desired to know when he would return to his ranch. Then, according to the new version, Villa pretended to walk to the door, behind Benton, felt the revolver in his pocket and arrested him and placed him in another room. Later Benton frankly admitted that he had meant harm to Villa, and the latter had shot him immediately.

100 Cases of Measles.

One hundred cases of measles among children and adults are reported in Paducah by City Health Officer Linn. The supply of danger signals have been exhausted and more have been sent for. Dr. Linn attributes the rapid spread to carelessness and failure to report cases for quarantine. Children have been permitted to carry disease about, he says.

Mr. Mayo's Illness.

The news that comes from the bedside of Mr. J. C. C. Mayo is so far favorable, and the people of the State will join with his personal friends and business associates in hoping that a career of such promise may not be cut short. Although he has behind him a record of big things done, Mr. Mayo is still comparatively speaking, a young man, having hardly reached what is commonly alluded to as middle life. Beginning as a country school teacher, he has, by a combination of energy, foresight and business ability, laid the foundation of a personal fortune, but he has put a hitherto undeveloped section of Kentucky in a position to produce the limitless wealth. Mr. Mayo has been so busy a man and the undertaking upon his hands have been so large that none but the people of Eastern Kentucky have been able to know him. In some parts of Kentucky he is only a name, but it is a name for success deservedly won. In Eastern Kentucky he is looked to as a man who has already done much and is expected to do more for the section in which he resides. If he is spared to continue his work, Kentucky will know him as do now his own neighbors and friends.—Evening Post.

Truth is Power. Truth, and, by consequence, liberty, will always be the chief power of honest men.—Mme. De Stael.

Pin Your Faith to SILVER SEAL PAINTS

THERE are just three things that prevent you from protecting your roofs and outbuildings from the rain and sun, and cause you to live in a house that is dingy and ugly on the outside and dull and unpleasant on the inside.

The Cost of Making Paint

The Cost of Selling The Cost of Painting

WE haven't tried to reduce the cost of making paint, but have even gone to an extra expense to secure the purest and best of lead, zinc, and linseed oil, so we can put a guarantee of complete satisfaction behind every can of Silver Seal Paint.

We cut the cost of selling paint from 25 to 50% by selling it direct to you. All the salesmen's salaries and expenses, and the jobber's and dealer's profits, are cut out and you save the difference.

Now you can save another 25% by doing the work yourself. You don't need any experience. We have a book that tells you just what paint to use and how to use it.

JUST WRITE US NOW
and tell us what you want to paint.

There is a SILVER SEAL PAINT for every purpose.

Lameness

Sloan's Liniment is a speedy, reliable remedy for lameness in horses and farm stock. Here's proof.

Lameness Gone
"I had a horse sprain his shoulder by pulling, and he was so lame he could not carry foot at all. I got a bottle of your Liniment and put it on four times, and in three days he showed no lameness at all, and made a thirty mile trip besides."—Walter B. Alorford, La Salle, Cal.

For Splint and Thrush
"I have used Sloan's Liniment on a fine mare for splint and cured her. This makes the third horse I've cured. Have recommended it to my neighbors for thrush and they say it is fine. I find it the best Liniment I ever used. I keep on hand your Sure Colic Cure for myself and neighbors, and I can certainly recommend it for Colic."—S. E. Smith, McDonough, Ga.

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is a quick, safe remedy for poultry roup, canker and bumble-foot. Try it.

For Roup and Canker
"Sloan's Liniment is the speediest and surest remedy for poultry roup and canker in all its forms, especially for canker in the windpipe."—E. P. Spaulding, Jeffers, N. H.

Purely Personal.

Mrs. N. S. West and son James returned from Dawson yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Cloud, who have been touring the west since their marriage, February 5 recently passed through the city en route to their home near Pembroke, Ky., where Mr. Cloud has large farming interests. Mrs. Cloud, formerly Miss Mary Medeser, has a large number of friends who will regret to learn that she will make her permanent home in another state—Nashville Tennessee.

Mrs. C. H. Dietrich, who was with her mother at the time of her death, returned to her home in Winchester last Saturday morning. Her sister Miss Alice Lander, returned to London, Ky., Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Irving Roseborough and little daughter, Louise, returned from DeLand, Fla., last Friday night, where they visited Mr. Roseborough's mother. Mrs. Roseborough returned Friday night from a visit to her parents in Clarksville.

Mr. T. M. Jones returned from New York Friday night. He says that the city was in the grip of a snow storm and blizzard while he was there and that the weather was the worst he has ever experienced. He got about the wholesale department with great inconvenience, but bought a heavy spring stock of goods at bottom prices.

Exclusion To a Fine Point.

Mrs. Sado McDaniels, the Japanese wife of Dr. J. E. McDaniels, an American Surgeon on duty on a government vessel at Manila, has been ordered deported at Seattle, Wash., because she came without a passport. She was on her way to Independence, Oregon, to visit the family of her husband. Mrs. McDaniels speaks good English and is a woman of culture. The couple were married seven years ago in Yokohama.

Another Train Robbery.

San Francisco, Feb. 25—A masked robber boarded a Southern Pacific train from Santa Cruz at Burlingame, robbed the conductor, brakeman and express messenger of their personal effects, wounded the messenger and escaped from the moving train as it neared San Francisco.

Everybody Doing It.

R. A. Nicholson, a detective employed to hunt blind tigers at Fulton, was fined $30 on a charge of starting one himself.

Mr. Primm Improving.

W. T. Primm, of South Christian, who has been confined to his bed for the last two weeks, is improving, we are glad to learn.

GREAT HALL IN WHICH CONFERENCE FOR FARMERS AND BUSINESS MEN WILL BE HELD

It is indeed very fortunate that the great Armory in Louisville happens to have a number of rooms which can be used for small sectional meetings during the Conference of Farmers and Business Men, and that it is quite close to the Auditoriums of the Seelbach and Henry Watterson Hotels. There will be no lack of space in the Armory itself or in its large balconies, for all the demonstration work that will be used. In fact, so many huge events have been handled in the Armory that there is no danger of crowding at any point. It is fortunate that our paper has been able to secure a first-class picture of the Armory during the great Automobile Show, which was held in Louisville from February 11-14. We believe this picture will give our readers a very much better idea of the greatness of the Conference than anything that we could possibly put into a news story.

If our readers are interested in any of the wonderful discussions that will take place during the Conference April 7, 8, 9, 10, or wish to know anything about co-operative dairying, co-operative poultry or fruit-marketing, or the handling of farm produce through the parcel post, it would be a splendid investment of time and money to make the trip to Louisville and talk the matter over with experts.

The Conference in Louisville April 7, 8, 9, 10, is of such importance that extremely low railroad rates have been made. You can make the trip from your home town to Louisville at this time for one fare plus 25 cents.

MAGGIE BARRETT WEAVING "KIVER" FOR THE WHITE HOUSE BRIDE'S BED

In looking over the program for the Woman's Department in the Country Life Conference, Louisville, April 7-10 next, it is plain to be seen that many interesting talks and demonstrations are to be expected. The old fireside household industries will be under the direction of Mrs. Ernberg, of Berea College, Berea, Ky. In the mountain homes these old industries have not been completely lost. Rag carpets, quilting, weaving and basket-making are still part of the school work. Maggie Barrett, who lives on Bald Knob and walks four miles over a rough country road to and from Berea, wove "the kiver" for the White House bride's bed last autumn. All good housekeepers the Southland over should come to this great meeting and give what they have to give and receive what they feel they need.

President Joe Cook, of the State Normal College, at Hattiesburg, Miss., will have the general direction of the demonstration work in the Household Equipment Department in the enormous Armory. Household management, meals and their serving, house cleaning and the beautifying of the home will be developed under the leadership of Miss Mary E. Frayser, Winthrop College, Rock Hill, S. C. All of the demonstrations in cooking will be done by the teachers of Domestic Science in the State University and the State Normal Schools of Kentucky.

FRUIT IN THE SOUTH

All over the South the papers are having much to say about the awakening of the people to the value of fruit that has fine flavor. Northwestern fruit has been beautiful to look at on the fruit stands in the big cities, but a very small proportion of it has anything in the shape of that touched by the Southern sun. Apples from Georgia lately took a number of first and second prizes in the Great New York exhibit in New York State, and Kentucky apples shipped to the Northwest also took a great many prizes.

As this is true it is especially fitting and opportune that the Conference at Louisville, April 7-8-9-10, is to have Mr. W. M. McDonald, manager of the Excelsior Fruit Growers' Association of Minnesota, to give a talk and make some demonstrations. Mr. McDonald was originally an expert bookkeeper in Minneapolis, but finding that his health was breaking under close office work, he decided to go to the country. He at once took hold of the Excelsior Fruit Growers' Association and in five years pushed the business from $5,000 annually to $200,000. This man will organize a typical fruit growers' association among the horticulturists at the meeting, and show them methods of shipping, packing, advertising and the locating of markets.

When asked about the prices which prevailed when he took hold of the organization, and those prevailing last year, he said, "When the Association was launched 75 cents per case of 24 pint baskets of red raspberries prevailed. Last year our red raspberry cases of the same size averaged $2.05. Of course, to get such prices one must have a perfect pack and first-class fruit. Every fruit grower in our Association has his number and the dealer orders through the number and upon the reputation of the Association for fair dealing."

Would a Delegation Pay?

Each year the papers are full to overflowing with reports of meetings of merchants, bankers, manufacturers, railroad officials, labor unions and many fraternal orders. Some of these are enormous affairs, bringing thousands together that are interested in the same thing. Would it not be a splendid idea if Kentucky to-day, should turn out her thousands of farmers and their friends for the meeting at Louisville.

Certainly there never was a time ripe for a careful and thorough discussion of the needs of the country than the present. It will be a time when the farmers can "get together" to discuss their own problems. Many of the speakers will be men who come from between the plow handles and have worked their problems out in an everyday way, a way which any farmer could probably utilize.

This meeting will be in reality a liberal education. Not an education gleaned from books by the midnight oil, but an education that comes from contact with men who have thought big things and then lived to see those same big things become a part of the life about them.

If you can not come yourself, make it your business to see that your county sends at least a strong delegation to Louisville, April 7-8-9-10, to the Conference of Farmers and Business Men.

The railroad people of the South have been quick to see the tremendous advantage of quickening interest in rural life through the Conference of Farmers and Business Men in Louisville, April 7-8-9-10, and have allowed a very low rate, one fare plus 25 cents for the round trip.

Hotel rates are never increased on account of convention crowds in Louisville. Besides the numerous hotels, there are many restaurants and innumerable splendid boarding houses.

A SOUTHERN LEADER

Hon. T. F. Peck, of Tennessee.

At this Conference in Louisville most of the Commissioners of Agriculture from the Southern States will be present, either to speak or to take part in the general discussions that are sure to follow the papers that are given. Among the earliest to signify his intention of being on hand early and staying late is the progressive Commissioner of Tennessee, the Hon. T. F. Peck.

THE PROGRAM

During the Conference of Farmers and Business Men at Louisville, April 7-8-9-10, there will be discussions and demonstrations of the following:

- Co-operative Egg and Poultry Association.
- Vegetables, Fruits and Farm products.
- Co-operative Stock-breeding and Selling Association.
- Co-operative Creamery Association.
- A Conference of Country Women.
- A Conference of Country Doctors.
- A Conference of Country Preachers.
- A Conference of Business Men for County Life Development.
- A Demonstration of the New Type Rural School.
- A Conference of Boys' and Girls' Clubs.

The general committee in charge of this Conference is as follows: President, J. N. Camden, Versailles, Ky.

Vice President, J. B. Judah, Louisville, Ky.

Secretary, T. J. Coates, Frankfort, Ky.

Secretary of Farmers' Conference, Clarence Poe, Raleigh, N. C.

Secretary of the Business Men's Conference, Harry Hodgson, Athens, Ga.

Secretary of the Conference of Country Preachers, W. H. Mills, Clemson College, S. C.

Vice President of the Conference for Education in the South, S. C. Mitchell, Richmond, Va.

For information, programs, etc., address A. P. Bourland, Executive Secretary, 222 Southern Building, Washington, D. C.

Retail Druggists of Hopkinsville Soon to Receive New Medicine

An "External" Vapor Treatment That Relieves Colds Over Night, Croup in Fifteen Minutes—Coupon Below Good for a 25-Cent Package Free.

Hopkinsville people, especially mothers with small children, will be glad to know that the new "outside" treatment for croup and colds, that has made such a success in the South, will shortly be introduced here. A number of the leading druggists are arranging to give away packages free. If your druggist is one of these, the coupon below will entitle you to receive free a full-size 25-cent package.

The treatment is entirely different from the usual "internal" medicines which disturbs the digestion and are especially injurious to the delicate stomachs of children.

It is the form of a salve that is applied externally over the throat and chest. In severe cases it is covered with a warm flannel cloth. The heat of the body releases the soothing, antiseptic vapors of Thymol, Eucalyptol, Menthol, etc., which are inhaled with each breath. At the same time the preparation is absorbed through the skin, taking out the soreness and tightness.

In cases of croup a little rubbed over the chest will render the breathing easier in five minutes and in fifteen minutes the trouble is over. The most severe head or chest colds are usually relieved in one night. For all bronchial troubles, tonsillitis, hoarseness and difficult breathing

this new treatment will be found wonderfully effective.

It is a positive protection against pneumonia in its earlier stages and in advanced cases the medicated vapors inhaled loosen the phlegm and ease the difficult breathing, without interfering with other forms of treatment.

And the best part about it is that this preparation can be used with perfect safety on the youngest member of the family. The full formula is given on every wrapper.

None of the druggists have as yet received their shipments but as the free supply is limited it is advisable to present your coupon at once and ask your druggist to reserve your free package.

COUPON No. 1....

Good at your regular druggist, for one 25-cent package of Vick's "Vapo-Rub" Croup and Pneumonia Salve free. Present this coupon now and your druggist will reserve your package.

What's the Answer?
What gives us our sense of loathing for the garden toad, demurely useful little neighbor that he has proved himself, while his second cousin, the frog, who seems to do nothing but play the dandy and the braggart, is uniformly treated as a good fellow? If the toad gulped and croaked all night long, and made his home in slimy pools instead of in the melon patch, would they reverse their present order in our esteem?—Atlantic.

NEEDS NO HUMAN WATCHING

Uninhabited Lighthouse on the British Coast is the Latest Triumph
in Engineering.

On a wave-swept rock between the Casquets and Guernsey is an uninhabited lighthouse, whose lamps shed
their warning rays in clear weather
and are aided by a powerful fog signal when the fogs are heavy. It was built by Edinburgh engineers
and is the first of its kind. The light is derived from acetylene, two steel cylinders containing dissolved acetylene supplying sufficient light for two months. The burner is attached to the top of one of the air tanks. The light is turned on and off each day by means of a clock. An important consideration was the need for a powerful fog signal to be worked from the shore. During a fog power is transmitted from the shore station through a heavily armored cable over a mile in length.
By means of this air is compressed
into three tanks erected on the summit of the tower. A clock, automatically wound by compressed air, regulates the action, allowing a blast to pass every ninety seconds through a siren and horn. So powerful is the blast that it has been heard to a distance of twenty-six miles. Electrically each blast is signaled to the engine house on shore.

SHE WANTED 'EM

The Lecturer (during lecture)— Ladies and gentlemen, there are some spectacles that one never forgets.

Old Lady in Audience (to her husband)—Silas, I wish you'd find out where I can get a pair of them. I'm always forgetting mine.

THEN THERE WAS SILENCE.

An amusing story is being told of Sir Douglas Dawson, who had so much to do with the preparation for Prince Arthur's wedding. Sir Douglas had a very worrying time, and the story goes that one day he went into a room in the palace where a friend was sitting, and, sinking into
a chair, he remarked, wearily:

"If anyone so much as breathes
the word 'wedding' in my presence I'll knock him down!" He had scarcely uttered the words when the door opened and King George came in, looking worried.

"Oh, by the way," he began at once, "about this wedding—"

His majesty got no further than
the word, for, in spite of all his efforts, Sir Douglas' friend was forced to laugh. The king glanced at him
in surprised annoyance, but laughed
heartily when Sir Douglas explained
what he had just threatened.

GETTING THE FACTS.

Counsel (examining domestic in a breach of promise case)—Was the defendant's air when he promised to marry you perfectly serious or one of levity and jocularity?

Plaintiff—If you please, sir, it was all ruffled with him running his hands through it.

"You misapprehend my meaning,"
said counsel. "Was the promise
made in all utter sincerity?"

"No, sir; it was made in the wash-house," replied the plaintiff, amid roars of laughter.

WHEN HE GRIEVES.

Redd—Black's family is away in the country, I hear.

Greene—Yes.

"Does he grieve much when his family's away?"

"Does he? Say, he lost $18 playing poker last night!"

EVIDENT FALSEHOOD.

"My husband has told me an un-
truth," said the woman whose mouth
turns down at the corners.

"Dear me!" said the woman who listens, eagerly. "What about?"

"I told him Fido was sick and he said he was sorry to hear it."

INCUBATOR NOT A NEW IDEA

Ancient Egyptians Really Knew More
About the Subject Than We Moderns Do Today.

The announcement is made by a British scientist that he has discovered how the ancient Egyptians incubated chickens to the number of 12,000,000 a year. He has found incubators which he declares were used in Egypt 5,000 years ago.

The secret has been well guarded,
but it is laid bare at last. They had no oil stoves or gas or electric heated incubators, but they had ovens
which worked much better, even though they required more constant tending. Each oven was calculated to hold 7,000 eggs, and the fuel by which it was heated consisted of chopped straw and dung, but for the last ten days of the hatching the energy was supplied altogether by the chickens themselves.

It is the commonest error of those operating our modern incubators to use too much heat, especially toward the end of the period, and now we may learn from the old Egyptians
how not to do things as well as how to do them. The use of the straw and other light fuel shows that the Egyptians were most careful to avoid too intense heat at any stage. We thought that we were the first to use
incubators, but we are fifty centuries
behind the times.

WHERE JOHN LOST HIS CASE

Defendant's Peculiar Form of Currency Somewhat Prejudiced the Court Against Him.

At much expense to the county
John recently was returned to his home town to answer to a charge of wife desertion. Arraigned in court,
he stoutly protested that while necessity forced him to leave his family
in order to obtain employment, he had sent various sums back to his wife for her support. The state's case began to look rather shaky, because it was a matter of choice between the word of the wife and that of the husband, and the latter had noted certain dates on which he said he sent his wife money. At this point
the court took a hand in the questioning.

"John, what was the largest sum of money you ever sent to your wife
at one time?" the prisoner was asked.
"Well, judge, it was exactly $80,"
said John, after studying a moment.
"How did you send this large sum,
John?" queried the court. "By postal or express order, bank check, or how?"

"None of them ways," replied
John. "I sent two forty-dollar bills
in an envelope."

GOT BIG PRICE FOR PIES.

Among the many wars of Mexico
was that of 1838, known as "Guerra
de los Pasteles," or the "Pie War."
This name is truly descriptive, since
it occurred by reason of a few pies
baked by a French pastry cook of the City of Mexico and stolen by hungry peons. The cook entered a claim for indemnity in the sum of $60,000.
Strangely enough, the French government took cognizance of this claim and made formal demand upon
the Mexican authorities for its immediate payment, and, stranger still,
the claim was paid.

SMALL WONDER.

"What caused the coolness between you and that young doctor? I thought you were engaged?"

"His writing is rather illegible.
He sent me a note for 1,000 kisses."

"Well?"

"I thought it was a prescription
and took it to be filled."

THE WAY OF IT.

"Why is it that hospital is so popular. It certainly hasn't got the best doctors."

"No, but it has got the prettiest
nurses."

SUITS THE PLACE.

"Don't you think the rents in this apartment house are very high?"

"Yes, my dear; but, then, it's 20
stories."

HOW GREAT A THING!

"They say Ella's fiance has money
to burn."

"Well, he has met his match."—

INCOME TAXES OF PLUTOCRATS

John D. Rockefeller Heads List With Estimated Payment Of Six Millions.

New York, Feb. 27.—John D. Rockefeller, who will make Tarrytown his exclusive home hereafter, will pay the trifling sum of $6,000,000 as his share of the income tax for the year 1913. His income is somewhere around $100,000,000 a year, according to his income tax return, which is expected to be filed on or before March 2. Andrew Carnegie stands second on the list, with an annual income of $15,000,000, and a tax thereon of $9,000,000. It is calculated that the wealthy New Yorkers will contribute from $30,000,000 to $50,000,000 in income taxes. Here are some of the taxpayers and their estimated incomes:

	Income.	Tax.
John D. Rockefeller.....	$100,000,000	$6,000,000
Andrew Carnegie.....	15,000,000	9,000,000

RICH MINE WELL CONCEALED

If This Story is True, Untold Riches Are Waiting for Some Fortunate Prospector.

This touching tale, for the veracity of which we do not vouch, comes from a source that we do not know, says the Engineering and Mining Journal:

"About 1660 a Spaniard in Peru, named Jose Salcedo, fell in love with an Indian girl. He proceeded to do a thing almost unheard of in those times. He married her. Out of gratitude her mother revealed to him a vein of silver of unexampled richness. He worked it and drew from it considerable wealth—too much for his happiness, for his opulence excited the cupidity of the viceroy, Count Lemos, who had him charged with high treason, the penalty of which was death and the confiscation of all worldly goods.

"It was in vain that Salcedo demanded permission to appeal to Madrid, and offered to pay two ingots of silver daily during the fifteen months that must elapse before a reply was returned. The count refused, and hanged him in 1669. But the butcher got small good out of it. The Indians, intent on avenging their friend, destroyed the works of the mine, filled it with water, and concealed the entrance so cleverly that it could never be discovered. Neither promises nor threats could extract their secret, which remains so to this very day."

This story is more romantic than those of the Gunsight, Pegleg and several other "lost mines" of the American desert.

HAND TO MOUTH.

Are you getting accustomed to New York?" asked the talkative grocer.

"By degrees," said the woman. "I think I like it a little better than I did at first." Then a moment later she added: "But how did you know that we had just moved to town? I never told you."

"No, you never told me, but the way you bought groceries did. You bought in such large quantities. This showed that you had just come from some place where people had plenty of storeroom, and so bought groceries by the box and barrel instead of by the pound. But I see you are getting used to keeping house on two kitchen shelves, and are buying in dribbles, like the rest of New Yorkers."
